Beginning and ending of lines are not described. Low water mark cannot be determined because of a lack of noting the fact of the line beginning or ending near low water mark.

Bottoms are not recorded often enough. The soundings are taken very irregularly, and for the most part the minutes only are recorded.

Some positions are doubtful, because of the selection of a poorly conditioned set of signals.

With the exception of the lines developing the North Inlet Channel, the crossings are good.

F. C. Donn. (Signed).
