

Two subordinate tide gages, Kah Shakes Cove and North Kestrel Island were installed and operating concurrent with field operations. The North Kestrel Island tide gage was utilized to zone the survey for reduction of sounding data on the smooth sheet. Soundings on the Final Field Sheet were reduced using predicted tides from Ketchikan, Alaska. Further information is available in the Field Tide Note.