

Predicted tides based on the Cordova, Alaska, reference station were used during field processing. Tide correctors used for the reduction of final soundings reflect approved hourly heights zoned from the Cape Saint Elias tide gage.